

Clinical Visit Note

Aevara Medical Group — Confidential Patient Record

Patient Information

Patient Name	Robert Martinez
Date of Birth	1949-05-30
Visit Date	2023-05-15
Provider	Dr. Emily Chen, Family Practice

Chief Complaint

Patient reports worsening itching and red patches on arms and legs over the past month, particularly in the evenings.

Diagnosis

ICD-10 Code	I10
Description	Atopic dermatitis, unspecified

Clinical Notes

Examination reveals erythematous, lichenified plaques on bilateral forearms, lower legs, and behind ears consistent with chronic atopic dermatitis. Skin appears dry with evidence of recent scratching. Patient reports using only basic soap and water for cleansing. No signs of secondary infection noted. Family history positive for atopic conditions.

Treatment Plan

Prescribe topical fluticasone propionate 0.1% cream to affected areas twice daily for two weeks, followed by maintenance with hydrocortisone 1% cream. Recommend fragrance-free moisturizer applied immediately after bathing. Provide patient education on trigger avoidance and proper skincare routine.

Follow-Up

Return in 3 weeks to assess response to treatment. Avoid harsh soaps, excessive bathing, and known irritants. Use prescribed moisturizer liberally and maintain consistent skincare regimen. Contact office if rash worsens, spreads to new areas, or signs of infection develop.

Electronically signed by: Dr. Emily Chen, Family Practice
Date: 2023-05-15

Synthetic clinical note generated for demonstration purposes only. Contains no real patient data.